A LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Happy July everybody! If you live in the United States, I hope you have a spectacular Fourth of July! If you're outside of the USA, I hope that you enjoy this festive backyard barbecue issue regardless. I felt like doing something fun and intimate, quite literally in the backyard of my own home. This is almost literally what it is like to live a day in my life. Barbecuing, watering the garden, playing with the dogs, and YES all while topless. I am Lauren Summer, of course. As I'm editing these photos, I am sitting in my family home enjoying the company of my loved ones for the first time in over a year.

HOW MANY PUPS CAN YOU SPOT IN THIS ISSUE?

July is really important to me because it marks the start of something new. A new phase in our lives where we are all vaxxed, waxed, and ready to get back to our lives. This issue is a celebration to the return of normalcy. Let's get back to backyard barbecues, friends, and pool parties. It's about damn time.

Stay safe and sexy, my friends.
